

Nourishing Drinks

If you have lost weight, have a small appetite or need extra nourishment, e.g. to help heal a wound, you may find it easier to boost your dietary intake by having nourishing drinks rather than eating more at meal times.

This advice may not be suitable for some people with conditions such as swallowing difficulties or diabetes. Please ask your doctor, nurse or dietitian for further advice if you are unsure.

Nourishing drinks do not replace meals but sipping on them between meals, or drinking one instead of eating a snack, can be both enjoyable and beneficial to your health.

This resource includes some ideas for nourishing drinks that have been tried and tested. You do not need special equipment to make these drinks – although if you have a liquidiser this can be used to quickly whizz the ingredients together. If you don't have a liquidiser, pushing the finished drink through a sieve before serving will make sure there are no lumps.

These drinks are also low cost and can be made from store cupboard ingredients. They are all high in calories and protein and will provide you with a range of vitamins and minerals. Over the counter products such as Aymes[®], Complan [®] and Meritene Energis[®] can be purchased in pharmacies and large supermarkets.

Fortified Milk

- Add 2-4 tablespoons of skimmed milk powder, e.g. Marvel or your supermarket's own brand, to 1 pint of full cream milk and mix well.
- If you cannot tolerate dairy products try using soya milk fortified.
- Use fortified milk in drinks such as tea or coffee, on cereals, in sauces, or to make up milkshakes. Once made up you can keep it in the fridge to use during the rest of the day.
- Why not have fortified milk as a drink on its own? A 200ml glass of fortified milk will provide 175 calories (kcal) and 11g protein – double the goodness of semi-skimmed milk!
- For variety you could add a milkshake powder or syrup.

Delicious Cool and Warm Nourishing Drinks

Here are some recipe suggestions for nourishing drinks – most of which use fortified milk. To keep things interesting, why not try your own recipes using fortified milk.

Use fortified milk to make up milky drinks such as Horlicks, Ovaltine or a hot chocolate or add it to hot drinks such as tea or coffee. If you prefer to have instant drinks, e.g. Cuppa Soup or instant hot chocolate, add two tablespoons of skimmed milk powder to the cup and add hot water to make up the drink as usual.
